

This is a comparison of the recorded overall sound resonance (audio spectrum) of two Stradivarius violins in the range of G3-C6. The vertical axis is the energy in decibel and the horizontal axis is frequency in midi notes (middle C is C4=60). These recordings are Itzhak Perlman and Sandor Vegh performances of Bach's solo violin sonata in G the Adagio

(c) 1999 Numerical Sound Notice of Rights All rights reserved. No Part of this document may be reproduced or transmitted in any form by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written permission of Numerical Sound. For information on getting permission for reprints, excerpts or further details contact Ernest Cholakis at Numerical Sound email: ernest@total.net ph 416.444.6644 fx 416.444.7045